THE ASSOCIATION OF GLOBAL CUSTODIANS

2007-2008 DEPOSITORY INFORMATION-GATHERING PROJECT:

A REPORT FOR CLIENTS AND PARTICIPATING DEPOSITORIES

January 31, 2008

In September 2000, the Association of Global Custodians ("Association") launched the Depository Information-Gathering Project ("Project" or "DIGP") to gather information concerning central securities depositories operating in numerous countries around the world. The Association undertook this project to assist its members in meeting their regulatory obligations under Investment Company Act Rule 17f-7, adopted in 2000 by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). In an effort to achieve the greatest efficiency for respondents, the Association worked as a group to gather information needed in the evaluation of depository risk under Rule 17f-7. Based on the information provided to custodians through this exercise and the analysis thereof, U.S. investment funds make determinations with regard to the risks of holding securities in particular foreign depositories.

Due to the fact that Rule 17f-7 imposes ongoing monitoring obligations on global custodians, it is necessary to periodically repeat the information-gathering process. For this reason, since its inception in 2000, the Association has updated the Project on an annual basis. In addition, each year the Association publishes an annual report summarizing the Project and noting depositories involved. Previous years' reports are available on the Association's public website at http://www.theagc.com.

Beginning in 2001, participating depositories were able to respond to the questionnaire via an electronic, web-based secure extranet site. The web-based extranet allows respondents to save responses in a "draft" questionnaire that remains on the system and is available for revisions until the respondent submits the questionnaire to the Association for review. In addition, those participants who responded using the on-line format in a previous year are able to review, online, their prior completed questionnaire. Participants are then able to update responses that have changed since the previous year. Any questionnaires that are completed in hard copy are inputted into the online site by the site administrator to assist Association members in their questionnaire review and to enable all respondents to update their questionnaires online in future years.

Details regarding the information-gathering process and this year's Project results are provided below.

The Association of Global Custodians

The Association is an informal group of eight global custodian banks that are major providers of securities custody and trade settlement services to institutional investors worldwide. The Association primarily seeks to address regulatory issues that are of common interest to global custody banks. The members of the Association are –

The Bank of New York Mellon Brown Brothers Harriman Citibank, N.A. HSBC Securities Services JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. Northern Trust RBC Dexia Investor Services State Street Bank and Trust Company

In May 2000, the Association formed a DIGP Committee to gather information concerning securities depositories. This year, a representative from The Bank of New York Mellon served as the chair of the Committee. Prior chairs include representatives from State Street Bank (2000-2001), Brown Brothers Harriman (2001-2002), Mellon Financial (2002-2003), Investors Bank & Trust (2003-2004), Northern Trust (2004-2005), RBC Dexia Investor Services (2005-2006) and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (2006-2007). The Project described in this report is the result of the Committee's work.

The Objectives of the Depository Information-Gathering Project

The genesis of the Association's DIGP was the adoption by the SEC of Investment Company Act Rule 17f-7. Rule 17f-7 sets forth the circumstances under which U.S. investment companies may hold securities through the facilities of non-U.S. securities depositories. A principal requirement of Rule 17f-7 is that an investment company must receive from its "Primary Custodian" an analysis of the custody risks associated with maintaining assets with each depository it uses.

¹ See Investment Company Release No. 24424 (April 27, 2000), 65 FR 25630 (May 3, 2000). Rule 17f-7 appears in Appendix A to this report.

Rule 17f-7 does not provide specific guidance concerning the content of these analyses of depository custody risk. However, in the release announcing the adoption of the rule, the SEC stated:

"As a general matter, we expect that an analysis will cover a depository's expertise and market reputation, the quality of its services, its financial strength, any insurance or indemnification arrangements, the extent and quality of regulation and independent examination of the depository, its standing in published ratings, its internal controls and other procedures for safeguarding investments, and any related legal protections." Investment Company Act Release No. 24424 at 10-11 (notes omitted) (April 27, 2000).

The purpose of the Association's depository questionnaire is to gather basic, factual information on an annual basis concerning foreign depositories in order to assist members in preparing the risk analyses required under Rule 17f-7. However, the questionnaire is not intended to limit or fully define the type of information that should form the basis for such an analysis, and individual Association members may choose to draw on additional sources of information in the preparation of particular risk analyses. Each Association member bank will decide for itself whether to gather additional information, and how to synthesize the information obtained through the DIGP and otherwise regarding a particular depository in preparing the required risk analyses.

Custodian banks are required by Rule 17f-7 "to monitor the custody risks associated with maintaining assets with the Eligible Securities Depository on a continuing basis, and promptly notify the Fund or its investment adviser of any material change in these risks." (emphasis added) In addition, the structures, linkages, and settlement cycles at various depositories are rapidly evolving and changing. Accordingly, the Association has determined to update the DIGP on an annual basis in order to keep abreast of these changes and to aid its members in meeting their obligation to monitor depositories on a "continuing basis."

Changes in Questionnaire Content

At the conclusion of each year of the project, the DIGP Committee reviews the questionnaire in light of depository responses in an effort to streamline the format and revise or eliminate certain questions. In addition, the Committee considers suggestions and comments received from many of the depository participants throughout the Project concerning the questionnaire. The Committee then revises the questionnaire by reworking or deleting questions that resulted in ambiguous responses, and adds necessary follow-up or new questions.

The Committee also has worked to provide additional features within the questionnaire to simplify the response process. These features include, for example, additional response options to various questions (e.g., for most questions, respondents now have the opportunity to provide additional information, as needed, when "other" or "not applicable" is selected as the desired response), additional definitions in the glossary, table of contents and "help" tips on individual questions where additional guidance is appropriate.

A copy of the current DIGP questionnaire appears in $\underline{\mathbf{Appendix}}\ \mathbf{E}$ to this report.

Online Questionnaire

The Association has continued to work with the information technology staff of Baker & McKenzie LLP to maintain a secure extranet site through which depositories can review and respond to the questionnaire online. As a result, participating depositories can complete the questionnaire on-line, and Association members can review questionnaire responses immediately once the responding depository submits the completed questionnaire. The secure extranet site facilitates both the collection and review of the data, as well as the future updating thereof. Since the data collected will be maintained on the secure site, in subsequent years depository participants may simply review and revise their previous submissions to incorporate any changes that have occurred.

In addition to providing a convenient method by which respondents can complete and submit responses, the extranet site also provides general guidance concerning the questionnaire, including a glossary of terms used in the questionnaire, responses to frequently asked questions, and information on Association members involved in gathering the depository information. In addition, completion of the questionnaire via the extranet allows Association member banks to generate automated reports and facilitates review and analysis of the information obtained.

Depositories Included in the Depository Information-Gathering Project

In determining which entities to include in the Project, the Association looked to the SEC's definition of the term "securities depository" in Rule 17f-7. Rule 17f-7 describes the depositories to which it applies by referring to another SEC rule, Investment Company Act Rule 17f-4. Rule 17f-4 provides that a securities depository is "a system for the central handling of securities where all securities of any particular class or series of any issuer deposited within the system are treated as fungible and may be transferred or pledged by bookkeeping entry without physical delivery of the securities."

In some cases, however, it is not clear whether or not the SEC would regard particular non-U.S. facilities that perform some of the functions of a securities depository as falling within Rule 17f-7. The Association has not, as a group, made any formal determinations concerning which entities would be regarded as depositories within the meaning of the rule. Instead of making a legal determination, the Association sent the questionnaire to institutions that perform some or all of the functions encompassed by the definition. As a practical matter, the Association believes that most of the entities that received the questionnaire would be deemed depositories under Rule 17f-7. In those cases where the application of the definition is less clear, the Association believes that many institutional investors are likely to wish to receive the type of risk analysis information required by Rule 17f-7 with respect to the facility in question, regardless of whether or not it is technically a "securities depository."

Results of the Depository Information-Gathering Project

In August 2007, the Association sent the DIGP questionnaire to 139 depositories in 93 jurisdictions. As of January 31, 2008, the Association had received completed questionnaires from 120 of those depositories contacted. This year, the Association added one new depository to the distribution list. As of the end

² In 2003, the SEC approved changes to Rule 17f-4 that inadvertently altered the definition of "securities depository" for purposes of Rule 17f-7. SEC staff has assured the Association in writing that the prior definition of securities depository, as set forth above, should continue to prevail for purposes of Rule 17f-7, and that a correction to indicate this will be issued in the future.

date of the Project, 19 depositories had declined to respond or had indicated their responses were pending.

Appendix C is a list of the 139 depositories that the Association contacted as part of the Project. In each case, the chart indicates whether the depository provided the Association with a completed questionnaire.

Use of Questionnaire Responses

Each Association member bank will use the questionnaire responses as it sees fit. The questionnaire is intended to be a source of information from which member banks can draw in preparing Rule 17f-7 analyses. How individual Association member banks use questionnaire responses is a matter committed to their discretion. The Association has no position on how questionnaire information should be used in preparing Rule 17f-7 analyses.

Availability of Completed Questionnaires

The Association will not release questionnaire responses directly to the general public or to participating depositories.³ We recognize that, in most cases, the information sought by the questionnaire is publicly available. However, the Association is concerned that if all depository responses are automatically disseminated to the general public or to other depositories, some depositories may be less likely to respond to future Association requests for updated information. This could, in turn, hamper the ability of Association members to provide clients with the analyses required by Rule 17f-7.

The Association has encouraged depositories to make their responses public, and many depositories have indicated a willingness to do so. Appendix D to this report is a list of each depository that has, as of January 31, 2008, indicated that it will provide its questionnaire responses to any interested person upon request and, if so, the name and address of the person or website from which the depository's response is available.

³ While the Association will not release questionnaire responses to the public, the members of the Association are not required to treat questionnaires as confidential. The Association does not believe that the raw questionnaires will generally be of use to, or will be sought by, clients of members.

Of the 120 depositories that participated in the 2007-2008 DIGP, 94 have indicated that they will make their responses available upon request or that they have posted their response on a website. The remaining 26 depositories have indicated that they will not make their responses publicly available.

Frequently Asked Questions Concerning the Depository Questionnaire Project

In response to inquiries from depositories concerning this Project, the Association has prepared a paper that generally describes the Project and addresses some of the most frequently asked questions. A copy of that paper appears in Appendix B to this report.

Questions and Answers

1. What is the Association of Global Custodians?

The Association is an informal group of eight global custodian banks that are major providers of securities custody and trade settlement services to institutional investors worldwide. The members of the Association are listed at the introduction of this document. The Association primarily seeks to address regulatory issues that are of common interest to global custody banks. The member banks are competitors, and the Association does not involve itself in member commercial activities or take positions on how members should conduct their custody businesses.

2. What is SEC Rule 17f-7 and What Does it Require?

The genesis of the depository questionnaire is the adoption by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") of Investment Company Act Rule 17f-7. Rule 17f-7 sets forth the circumstances under which U.S. investment companies may hold securities through the facilities of non-U.S. securities depositories. The key requirement of Rule 17f-7 is that an investment company must receive from its "Primary Custodian" an analysis of the custody risks associated with maintaining assets with each depository it uses.

Rule 17f-7 does not provide specific guidance concerning the content of these analyses of depository custody risk. However, in the release announcing the adoption of the rule, the SEC stated:

"As a general matter, we expect that an analysis will cover a depository's expertise and market reputation, the quality of its services, its financial strength, any insurance or indemnification arrangements, the extent and quality of regulation and independent examination of the depository, its standing in published ratings, its internal controls and other procedures for safeguarding investments, and any related legal protections."²

² Investment Company Act Release No. 24424 at 10-11 (notes omitted) (April 27, 2000).

3. What is the Purpose of the Association's Depository Questionnaire?

The purpose of the Association's annual questionnaire is to gather basic, factual information concerning depositories and similar facilities as part of its members' efforts to prepare the analyses required under Rule 17f-7. Some custodians may decide to draw on additional sources of information in the preparation of their analyses. Each Association member bank will decide how to synthesize the information it obtains into its required Rule 17f-7 analyses.

4. How Does the Purpose of the Association's Questionnaire Differ from that of Other Questionnaires that a Depository May Receive?

The Association understands that depositories are being asked to respond to an increasing number of questionnaires seeking information concerning depository operations. The objectives of the various questionnaires differ. We believe that the Association's questionnaire is unique in four respects.

First, the Association developed its questionnaire in response to a regulatory requirement. As described above, Association members have a regulatory obligation, pursuant to Rule 17f-7, to provide their investment company clients with information concerning depository risk.

Second, the Association has no commercial interest in the information gathered and does not treat the information it receives from depositories as proprietary. The Association does not sell such information. On the contrary, we encourage depositories to make their questionnaire responses available to the general public.

Third, the Association will not, as a group, perform risk analyses or rate depositories as a result of their questionnaire responses. While each individual member will use the information at its discretion, the Association will not be a participant in that process. The Association's goal is simply to collect factual information concerning depositories.

Fourth, the questions on the Association survey are intended to collect facts about the structure and operating environments of existing entities and do not offer recommendations for changes. Other industry groups have constructed questionnaires in the form of guidelines for financial market infrastructure to achieve generally accepted best practice standards. The Association's effort is driven solely by legal compliance mandates and seeks only to determine what exists in the present environment.

The Association is sympathetic to the depositories' concerns regarding the increasing number of questionnaires being circulated. The Association has attempted to create a streamlined document to gather, in the least burdensome method possible, information relevant to its members' obligations to provide analyses pursuant to Rule 17f-7.

5. The Association Circulated a Similar Questionnaire Before. Why is it Requesting that Depositories Respond Again?

Rule 17f-7 requires that global custodians monitor the custody risks associated with depositories that hold investment company assets "on a continuing basis" and "promptly notify" their investment company clients of any material changes. While Association members use a variety of methods to monitor depositories, we believe that, as a practical matter, Rule 17f-7 requires that banks have a procedure in place to make sure that the information is current and accurate. Accuracy can only be assured if depositories are active participants in the update process. For this reason, the Association plans to ask depositories to review and update their questionnaire responses annually.

6. Why Has the Format of the Association's Questionnaire Changed From Past Years?

The Association has modified the questionnaire from time to time to clarify certain questions and to incorporate comments received from participating depositories.

In 2002, in an effort to make the entire information-gathering process more efficient and less of a burden on the participating depositories, the Association also implemented an optional online format for questionnaire updates. The online format has been available each subsequent year. For those entities that choose to respond to the questionnaire via the online extranet site, responses are saved electronically in order to facilitate future updates. This means that in subsequent years, participating depositories are able to simply open their questionnaire (as submitted in the prior year), review saved responses for current accuracy, revise responses as needed, and complete any additional questions. If much of the information in the questionnaire remains unchanged from one year to the next, the time necessary for responding to the questionnaire should be greatly reduced.

In recent years, only minor changes have been made to the questionnaire. These changes are largely based on participant feedback and suggestions.

7. How Does the Association Define the Term "Depository" for Purposes of the Questionnaire?

The Association looks to the SEC's definition of the term "securities depository." Rule 17f-7 describes the depositories to which it applies by referring to another SEC rule, Rule 17f-4. Rule 17f-4 provides that a securities depository is "a system for the central handling of securities where all securities of any particular class or series of any issuer deposited within the system are treated as fungible and may be transferred or pledged by bookkeeping entry without physical delivery of the securities."

The SEC has provided only limited guidance concerning how this definition applies to nontraditional depositories. Therefore, in some cases, it is not clear whether the SEC would regard a particular facility that performs some of the functions of a securities depository as falling within the definition in Rule 17f-7.

³ In 2003, the SEC approved changes to Rule 17f-4 that inadvertently altered the definition of "securities depository" for purposes of Rule 17f-7. SEC staff has assured the Association in writing that the prior definition of securities depository, as set forth above, should continue to prevail for purposes of Rule 17f-7, and that a correction to indicate this will be issued in the future.

8. Has the Association Determined that All of the Institutions that Receive the Questionnaire Are Securities Depositories Under the SEC's Definition?

No. The Association has not, as a group, made any determinations concerning which entities would be regarded as depositories within the meaning of Rule 17f-7. Because of the limited SEC guidance available and the ambiguity in some of the SEC's statements on this issue, we do not believe that it is appropriate for the Association to attempt to make such determinations. Individual Association members, in consultation with their clients, are, of course, free to decide whether they believe that a particular facility is or is not a "securities depository" under the SEC definition.

Instead of making a legal determination, the Association sends the questionnaire to institutions that perform some or all of the functions encompassed by Rule 17f-7. As a practical matter, the Association believes that most of the entities that receive the questionnaire would be deemed depositories. In those cases where the application of the definition is less clear, we believe that many institutional investors are likely to wish to receive the type of risk analysis information required by Rule 17f-7 with respect to the institution in question, regardless of whether or not it is technically a securities depository.

9. By Responding to the Questionnaire, Has an Institution Conceded that it is a Securities Depository?

No. For the reasons stated in the response to the prior question, the Association does not view an entity's willingness to respond to the questionnaire as indicating that the entity is necessarily a securities depository under the SEC definition.

10. Will the Association Treat Depository Questionnaire Responses as Confidential?

No. The information provided in response to the questionnaire will be used in compiling Rule 17f-7 risk analyses, which will be furnished to clients and other interested parties. The Association does not intend to release completed questionnaires directly to the general public and does not believe that most clients will request access to particular depository responses. However, the members of the Association cannot ensure that responses themselves will be confidential.

11. Will the Association Provide Participating Depositories, or the General Public, With Copies of Questionnaire Responses?

The Association does not intend to make responses available to other participating institutions or to release them to the general public. We recognize that, in most cases, the information sought by the questionnaire is publicly available. However, the Association is concerned that, if all responses are automatically disseminated to other depositories or to the general public, some institutions may be less likely to respond to the annual questionnaire, or to subsequent Association requests for updated information. This could, in turn, hamper the ability of Association members to provide clients with the analysis required by Rule 17f-7.

At the end of the questionnaire, participants are asked whether they will release their questionnaire responses upon request, and, if so, to inform us how interested persons can obtain the responses. At the completion of the project, the Association prepares a list identifying all institutions to which the Association sent its questionnaire, indicating whether, in each case, the institution has responded and, if so, whether it will make its response available upon request. If an institution is willing to make its response public, we will include on our list the name and address of the person or web site from which the response is available.

12. May Respondents Make Their Own Questionnaire Public?

The Association encourages participants to make their own responses public. We understand that some depositories post their responses on their web sites. The Association has no objection to such posting, or to any other use that a depository wishes to make of its own response.

13. Will the Association "Unlock" Questionnaires Submitted via the Extranet to Allow Depositories to Add Commentary or to Modify Responses to a Previously Completed Questionnaire?

No. The questionnaire must remain locked. That is, participating entities will not have the ability to modify the responses or the format of the questionnaire without consultation with the Association. This ensures that there is only one current version of the depository's responses available to Association members.

If a depository wishes to include commentary or documentation with its questionnaire submission, the additional information should either be set forth in a separate document and uploaded to the site, or entered into the space provided for a particular question within the online questionnaire. If the additional materials are not available electronically, such as a printed annual report, a copy of the supplemental material should be sent to the Baker & McKenzie LLP site administrator, as set out below. The site administrator will electronically scan the submitted documents and provide them to the members.

Similarly, if a depository wishes to change the information provided in a questionnaire that has already been submitted via the online extranet, the participating depository should contact the Baker & McKenzie LLP site administrator to advise of the revision and supply the information which will be updated on the depository's behalf by Baker & McKenzie LLP. You can contact the site administrator, Robin D. Truesdale, at robin.d.truesdale@bakernet.com or 202/835-1664.

14. What Determinations Does the Association Plan to Make Concerning Depositories?

The Association does not intend to issue ratings or make any other determinations concerning depositories. As explained above, the Association's objective is to gather basic, factual information. Each Association member will then decide for itself how to use that information in preparing a risk analysis under Rule 17f-7 or for other purposes. The Association, as a group, will not take any position on this issue.

There is, however, one area in which the Association members will work together in evaluating questionnaire responses. Rule 17f-7 contains six eligibility standards. These standards provide that a securities depository is "eligible" as a securities depository if it -

- (i) Acts as or operates a system for the central handling of securities or equivalent book-entries in the country where it is incorporated, or [as] a transnational system for the central handling of securities or equivalent book-entries;
- (ii) Is regulated by a foreign financial regulatory authority as defined under section 2(a)(50);⁴
- (iii) Holds assets for the custodian that participates in the system on behalf of the Fund under safekeeping conditions no less favorable than the conditions that apply to other participants;
- (iv) Maintains records that identify the assets of each participant and segregate the system's own assets from the assets of participants;
- (v) Provides periodic reports to its participants with respect to its safekeeping of assets, including notices of transfers to or from any participant's account; and

⁴ Section 2(a)(50) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 provides:

[&]quot;Foreign financial regulatory authority" means any (A) foreign securities authority, (B) other governmental body or foreign equivalent of a self-regulatory organization empowered by a foreign government to administer or enforce its laws relating to the regulation of fiduciaries, trusts, commercial lending, insurance, trading in contracts of sale of a commodity for future delivery, or other instruments traded on or subject to the rules of a contract market, board of trade or foreign equivalent, or other financial activities, or (C) membership organization a function of which is to regulate the participation of its members in activities listed above.

(vi) Is subject to periodic examination by regulatory authorities or independent accountants.

The members of the Association intend to jointly review questionnaire responses in order to determine whether the information provided permits a determination concerning eligibility under these six criteria.⁵ In those cases where a questionnaire response is incomplete or unclear concerning eligibility, Baker & McKenzie LLP, on behalf of the Association, may contact the respondent for clarification or additional information.

15. If Individual Association Members or Their Clients Wish to Obtain Additional Information, How Will Follow-Up Occur?

Once the responses have been disseminated to Association members, and eligibility issues have been resolved, the member banks will use their own judgment concerning whether particular responses require amplification or explanation and, if so, what sources should be used in obtaining further information. That process could include follow-up inquiries to particular depositories. In addition, the sources to which Association members may look could include published information concerning depositories, the views of local institutions that are depository participants, and commercial rating services, among others.

16. How Will the Results of the Questionnaire Be Presented to Clients of Association Members?

Each member bank will use the questionnaire responses as it sees fit. The questionnaire was not formulated with a view to routinely presenting the responses to clients. Instead, the questionnaire is intended to be a source of information from which member banks can draw in preparing Rule 17f-7 analyses. As noted above, the Association does not propose to amplify or analyze questionnaire responses, except in the area of Rule 17f-7 eligibility information. How individual Association member banks use questionnaire responses is a matter committed to their discretion and on which the Association has no position.

17. What is Baker & McKenzie LLP's Role in the Questionnaire Project?

Baker & McKenzie LLP's role is essentially ministerial. Baker & McKenzie LLP has been charged with distributing the questionnaire, responding to inquiries from depositories, collating responses, and following up with depositories that do not respond. While Baker & McKenzie LLP may seek clarification from depositories where responses are incomplete or inaccurate, it has not been asked to perform any type of substantive review or evaluation of depository responses. Baker & McKenzie LLP will provide each Association member bank with the responses. The member banks will then proceed independently in gathering any further information they deem necessary in preparing analyses for their clients.

124j. Have you updated your contact details on the home page of this questionnaire? If not, please be sure to do so. Simply click on the "Home" button in the right tool bar and it will return you to the home page containing your contact detail information.

You have reached the end of the questionnaire. Please be sure to print your responses and review them prior to submitting your questionnaire. (To print, click on the "Print" button in the right hand tool bar. This will open up a separate window in your web browser. It may take a few moments for the information to load. Once it has loaded, you will be able to scroll through your entire questionnaire and then to print, you must choose the print feature from your web browser. In many cases, this is: "file" then "print." Clicking on the "print" button alone in the questionnaire toolbox will not print the questionnaire.) It is important that you ensure the accuracy of your draft responses before submitting the responses as submission will finalize your response. When you are prepared to submit your answers, please return to this question and select "save" (or in the alternative select "end" from the toolbox) which will then take you to the submission option provided all the necessary questions have been answered.

The members of The Association of Global Custodians thank you for your time and for your helpful response.
